

3 AMERICANS TELL OF LIFE IN RED JAIL CELLS

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

STORY: The Saturday Evening Post has come back to southern Illinois. The big magazine with the bigger circulation, which in the past has written about the Shawneetown floods, the Sheltons and Charlie Birger, this week turns to the city of West Frankfort.

In the Sept. 18 issue, released yesterday, there's an article titled "Crisis in Coaltown," written by a fellow named John Barlow Martin.

Mr. Martin has gone to West Frankfort, done a lot of talking with miners, merchants and bankers, and has ended up with a depressing story—the story of a town that depends on its coal mines and unemployment checks almost entirely.

We'll not go into the story right here but it most certainly does put our neighboring city in the lime-light in a depressing sort of way. I'm not saying it isn't true; it just doesn't sound good.

BIG CHUCK: More pleasant reading concerns the exploits of Chuck Hunsinger, still Harrisburg's gift to the world of professional football. Chuck is going great with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian league and he's tickled pink himself, along with hundreds of rooters in this area.

His father-in-law, Steve Mitchell, sent me some clippings from the Montreal Star and the Montreal Gazette of Tuesday, Sept. 7, which followed a Montreal contest against Ottawa, which the Alouettes won, 20 to 11.

The Gazette's sport page streamer was: HUNSINGER LEADS ALOUETTES TO 20-11 WIN OVER ROUGH RIDERS.

The streamer in the Star was a bit more dazzling: HUNSINGER DAZZLES AS LARKS STRETCH UNBEATEN GRID STRING.

The Montreal Star carried a three-column picture of Hunsinger, in civilian clothes and "lugging" a football while his two children look on. The headline said: "THAT'S OUR POP!" Chuck Hunsinger shows children Chuck Jr., aged 6, and Tana, aged 9, how he dazzled at Lansdowne park last night in leading Alouettes to victory.

There was a picture in the Gazette showing Chuck crossing the goal line with the first of two touchdowns made.

The sports column in the Gazette told about a big decision Coach Douglas "Peahead" Walker has to make at right halfback. It said:

"He's got two rather impressive right halfbacks—a fellow named Larry Grigg who hails from down Texas way and hit Montreal a few weeks ago with an awesome reputation—third highest scorer in the United States and named to two All-American teams in 1953.

"Peahead" already had quite a larriupin' lad from Illinois, Chuck Hunsinger, who led the Alouettes in scoring in touchdowns in 1953—a proven payoff guy. Also a veteran of three years with Chicago.

"So 'Peahead' kept Hunsinger on the bench for the first two games and the Als win. So, last night in Ottawa, he benches Grigg and puts Hunsinger into the line, and Chuck romped to two touchdowns as the Als won again."

"Personally, I think Grigg is one of the smoothest football machines I've seen in a long time. Hunsinger doesn't need any local press rave to build him up—he's proven."

The Gazette's story of the win called Hunsinger the hedge-hopping harrier from Harrisburg, Ill.

Last week Chuck played an excellent game against Hamilton, also, scoring one of three touchdowns and making some excellent runs.

Wm. Biggers Buys B. W. Moore Home

Mr. and Mrs. William Biggers have bought the residential property of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard W. Moore at 111 North Granger street and expect to move into their new home next week. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are living in the country home they built on Route 13 west of Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Biggers sold their residence at 714 South McKinley avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Jean G. Parkhurst, both members of the faculty of Harrisburg Township high school.

Cyrus Steinsultz has bought the Charles Dillon place at McHaney and Webster streets, which burned quite a while ago, and is building a home there. Mr. Steinsultz is principal of Horace Mann school.

Dulles to Fly To Germany for Rearming Talks

Record Secretary's Asia Report for TV, Radio Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will fly tonight to Germany and Britain to deal personally with the talks on German rearmament.

Dulles will fly directly to Bonn, capital of West Germany, for talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He will leave tonight at 6 p. m. EDT and is expected to arrive in Bonn at 2:30 p. m., Bonn time, Thursday.

After talking with the West German leader he will fly to London, arriving there Friday, for talks with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Foreign Minister Anthony Eden.

Record and Film Address
The secretary's radio-TV nationwide report tonight (6:45 p. m. CST) on the new Southeast Asian defense treaty was recorded and filmed this morning for delivery tonight.

Among those accompanying Dulles will be H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense.

Hensel's presence lent emphasis to the critical situation over rearming Western Germany and the question of the free German government's sovereignty.

Dulles conferred with President Eisenhower in Denver on his return from the Far East, where he negotiated the Southeast Asian treaty, and then decided to make the quick trip in advance of next Tuesday's opening of the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

A State Department spokesman said Dulles definitely would attend the opening sessions of the U. N., where the question of Red China's membership bid is expected to touch off a hot East-West fight.

Expected to Warn Reds
As for his talk tonight, Dulles is expected to warn Red China that it will be playing with fire if it tries to take over Formosa or any other free Pacific power by force or subversion. He is likely to counterattack Russia's charge Tuesday night that the Southeast Asia pact has "aggressive aims."

Dulles also may touch on the search for a new German rearmament formula to replace the dead EDC.

Nixon, Martin Begin Campaign Swings for GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. took off today on a "campaign of education" to seek votes for a Republican Congress in the November election.

The two GOP leaders in the Eisenhower administration flew in chartered planes on separate swings which will cover most of the country before election day.

The vice president took off in a TWA Martin 404 with Columbus, Ohio, as his first stop.

Martin, of Massachusetts, took off in an American Convair with a Republican rally in New Jersey as his first stop.

Before their departure, Nixon and Martin along with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall expressed confidence the GOP can win this election if it "runs scared."

"I think we're going to be able to pick up 15 seats in the House," Martin said.

Nixon said the Republicans are behind now, but will win in November if they do an effective job of telling the voters about the need for a GOP Congress to continue the administration program.

Nixon said he thought the loss of a governorship in the Maine voting was a good thing for Republicans nationally because it will shake them out of any apathy.

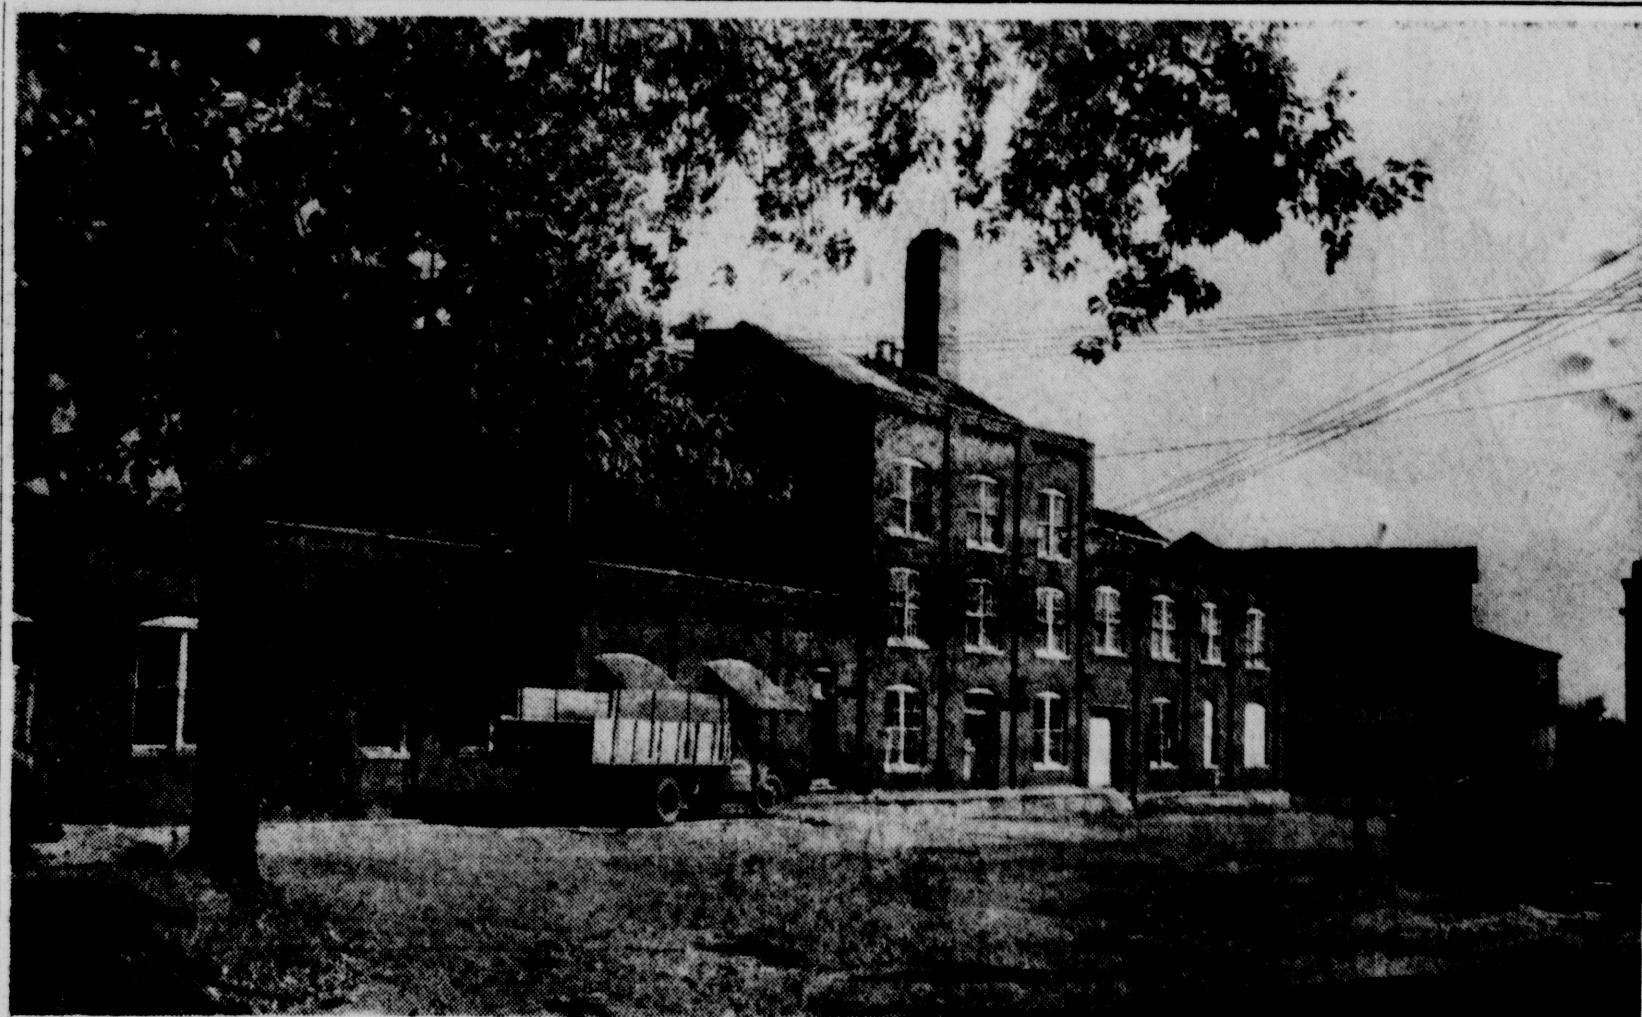

Nixon's campaign target was the Midwest. His first speech scheduled for later today was at a Republican rally in Columbus.

Martin scheduled an 11-day transcontinental swing which will take him from New Jersey to Washington and back to Missouri.

Both Martin and Nixon will take the stump in other areas of the country in other campaign swings before the Nov. 2 balloting.

Famed Hotel Sold

NEW YORK (AP)—The famous Hotel Astor, a landmark on New York's Times Square for the past 50 years, has been sold to the Sheraton Corp. of America.

ONE OF CITY'S OLDEST ACTIVE BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENTS SOLD—Physical property of the Woolcott Milling company, Harrisburg, was sold early this week in a business transaction concluded between the Woolcotts and the new owners—Adolph Smith, Harrisburg, and three Metropolis men. The mill has been operated by members of the Woolcott family more than 60 years. (Register Staff Photo)

Adolph Smith and Three Metropolis Men Purchase Woolcott Milling Co.

Buy Physical Plant; Sale Subject to Rights of Co-Op

In a major business transaction concluded early this week, the physical assets of the Woolcott Milling company—a Harrisburg institution for more than 60 years—was purchased by Adolph Smith, Harrisburg, and three Metropolis men.

The purchase was made subject to rights of the Saline County Farmers Cooperative company.

The new owners plan a complete overhaul of all machinery at the mill, and a considerable number of parts have already arrived.

When this work is completed, operations at the mill will be speeded materially. Other improvements are planned.

Mr. Harris stated today that the mill was already in the market for soybeans, both hay and oil varieties. They will be marketed by the mill.

Officially expressed the belief that all farmers holding stock in the cooperative could be reimbursed.

Harry Woolcott Sr. has announced that contrary to belief the Woolcott Milling company has not been dissolved with the sale of its property.

The milling company plans to continue in business, specializing in feed, with headquarters located in the old REA building at Church and Commercial streets.

Purchased in 1922
The mill came into Woolcott hands some 60 years ago. J. H. Woolcott, moving here from Marquette, Mich., in 1892, purchased the business then located in a frame structure at the present site from Dr. J. W. Mitchell, shortly after coming to the city.

In 1906, the mill was largely rebuilt, the Woolcotts constructing the brick portion which is the major part of the present structure. The warehouse building was added in 1912 and the sealed tanks still later.

The senior Mr. Woolcott was assisted in the operation of the mill by his two sons, Harry and Carl. In more recent years, these two men have in turn been assisted by their sons.

Peak Period 1918-1924
The Woolcott Milling company was one of the largest in southern Illinois for many years and milled flour in great quantities. They shipped large amounts to Memphis, their outlet in the South. Their flour "Belle of Harrisburg" has had a wide reputation for years as an outstanding product.

Probably the peak production years at the mill were those between 1918 and 1924. The mill employed as many as 25 persons until discontinuing its milling process in 1948. Since then the Woolcott Milling company has dealt mostly in meal and feed.

Benson Cancels Part of Crop Control Program

Acts to Help Farmers Hard Pressed by Drought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson today eliminated the toughest part of next year's scheduled crop control program. He said he acted to aid farmers now hard pressed by widespread drought.

Benson wiped out the so-called "total acreage" phase of the program which would have put production controls on every crop grown by farmers who had 10 or more acres idled by production cutbacks on basic crops. Ordinarily only the basic crops are under acreage controls.

The original purpose of the "total acreage" program was to prevent diverted acre planting from ballooning into new crop surpluses.

At a packed news conference, Benson also:

1. Announced that the 1955 wheat crop will be supported in the commercial wheat areas at not less than $2.06 a bushel. The price is $2.5 per cent of the current wheat parity price, the minimum support allowed in the new flexible farm law. This year's prop is $2.24 a bushel.

2. Recommended that President Eisenhower designate Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Tennessee and South Carolina as drought disaster areas eligible for emergency federal aid.

3. Stepped up from 60 cents to $1.00 per 100 pounds the subsidy farmers in drought areas will get on purchase of government-owned livestock feed.

4. Announced initial "set-aside" of 400 million bushels of wheat and one million bales of cotton as provided under new farm law. The wheat set-aside "may be increased," he said, and the cotton set-aside will be increased to "at least" three million bales.

Commodities set aside are not counted when price support levels are determined. Under the flexible support law, support levels are based on supply.

Benson told reporters he eliminated "total acreage allotments"—which he said he "never liked"—because they are "uneconomical, unfair, and ineffective"—because "we must do everything possible to help farmers and ranchers get the supplemental feed supplies they need so badly in the areas where dry weather has cut off their normal pasture and forage crops."

Benson and Commodity Stabilization Service Chief James A. McConnell, who sat in at the news conference, said they expect farmers largely to plant feed and forage crops on the land freed from controls today. McConnell said he hopes soybean production also will be expanded.

National Church Council Selects New York Site

NEW YORK (AP)—New York has been selected over Chicago as the permanent home of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., largest Protestant body in the nation.

The decision was reached Tuesday by the council's policy-making general board after a hectic 2½ hour debate between advocates of the two sites. The vote was 82½ to 29½ in favor of New York.

The vote was so controversial it was conducted by secret ballot, which a council spokesman said was unprecedented. Balloting usually is done by a show of hands, he said.

Midwestern representatives of the council's 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations representing an estimated 35,500,000 members immediately announced their opposition to the permanent site, which originally was recommended by a special committee of 10 members.

1. Never permitted them to see daylight during the entire year and one-half of their captivity.

2. Never permitted them to communicate and did not even indicate to any of them whether the others were alive.

3. Bombarded them with "stupid and bewildering questions," especially about American "germ warfare" in Korea and about their "invasion" of Chinese territorial waters and insisted on phoney "confessions."

4. Gave them fair food but little water and no cigarettes or other "luxuries."

The three showed the effects of their long imprisonment principally in loss of weight, tattered and dirty clothing, impressive crops of whiskers and hands that shook as they accepted from friends who greeted them here the first cigarettes they had tasted in 18 months.

They came across the Red Chinese frontier to freedom at 2:40 p. m. (1:40 a. m. EDT) a little more than three days after the Red Chinese had announced they were being "expelled" from China.

Almost 50 newsmen were waiting on the steps of the Peninsula Hotel when the three men arrived in the American consul's automobile.

Dixon, of New York, said that for 18 months he did not see daylight or have any exercise. Applegate, of Medford, Ore., and Krasner, of New York, reported similar treatment.

They said they were never allowed to go out of buildings unless they were handcuffed and blindfolded.

Applegate appeared pale and weary but had lost none of his sense of humor.

"We must have been somewhere," he said to Dixon and Krasner as they spotted the correspondents.

Applegate said the crewmen of the Chinese gunboat that seized his yacht on March 21, 1953, were the "most incompetent bunch of dummies I have ever seen."

Return After 18 Months As Prisoners

Correspondents, Sea Captain Say They Never Saw Daylight

HONG KONG (AP)—Two American war correspondents and a young U. S. merchant sea captain returned to freedom and daylight today from 18 months in dark, bedbug infested jail cells in Red China.

The three—former United Press correspondent Richard Applegate, International News Service writer Donald Dixon and Capt. Ben Krasner said their communist captors:

1. Never permitted them to see daylight during the entire year and one-half of their captivity.

2. Never permitted them to communicate and did not even indicate to any of them whether the others were alive.

3. Bombarded them with "stupid and bewildering questions," especially about American "germ warfare" in Korea and about their "invasion" of Chinese territorial waters and insisted on phoney "confessions."

Boom or Bust?

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Ike Orders Most Drastic Cuts in Budget History For Next Year: Practically All Government Construction Will Be Cut; No More Money For Housing, Veterans Loans Or Public Power, Secret Budget Order Says.

WASHINGTON. — One of the toughest letters in Budget Bureau history has been sent to every member of the Eisenhower cabinet, ordering further cuts for the fiscal year 1955-56.

This column has been able to obtain a copy of the highly secret and important document, which as far as the American public is concerned means two things.

1. Eisenhower means business when he says he is determined to proceed with his attempt to balance the budget despite advice from some of his staff that it may lead to recession.

2. There will be less government spending and less easy money next year.

The sternly-worded secret budget directive warns cabinet officers to virtually wipe out all civil construction projects, which will mean rough sledding for such proposals as new school buildings and even for Eisenhower's own highway program. It will also turn thumbs down on some of the proposed western irrigation and flood control projects so hotly debated in the recent session of Congress.

The secret directive also demands that cabinet officers apply a heavy ax to loans, mortgages, and even to the guarantee or insurance of loans. This means curtailment of loans to such organizations as rural electrification, veterans housing and the Federal Housing Administration, which hitherto has run into several hundred million dollars each year.

The secret instruction also warns cabinet members to withdraw from all projects which can be taken over by private enterprise, which hits at the Tennessee Valley Authority, Bonneville dam, and public power projects generally.

"PROGRESSIVE" BUDGET PRUNING
Cabinet members are also instructed to plan for "progressive reduction," and begin planning this year for more long-range cuts. Regarding next year's cuts, they must submit their ideas to the budget director by today.

Finally, they are instructed to begin holding out as much current money as possible from expenditure during the second half of the present fiscal year. This begins January 1, and will not affect any government spending during the present election campaign.

Because of the importance of the drastic budget order, this writer is publishing it in full, except for the name of the particular cabinet officer to whom this particular letter was sent. Also omitted is one paragraph pertaining to the amount of money this particular department was instructed to cut. To reveal the amount would reveal the identity of the department.

The order is in two forms — a letter to cabinet officers and a memo which is attached. The letter follows:

"Executive Office of The President
Bureau of The Budget
Washington 25

"My Dear (Name of Cabinet Officer):

"The budget results for the fiscal year just ended show the progress made thus far in reaching the budgetary objectives of this administration — fiscal soundness, military and economic strength, and the increased welfare of the country:

"1. Expenditures, new obligations, and the budget deficit were reduced substantially below the levels of the fiscal year 1953 and below the levels planned for 1954 in the budget presented to Congress a few days before this administration took office.

"2. Tax reductions were put into effect which will return to the people in the first full year about $7.5 billion — which would have been taken by the government under the tax rates in existence when this administration took office.

ANOTHER DEFICIT EXPECTED

"Despite these accomplishments, the administration's objective of a balanced budget at lower tax rates has not yet been attained. The fiscal year 1954 ended with a budgetary deficit, and another deficit is in prospect for 1955.

"Nevertheless, the progress made to date is encouraging. With your help it can and should be continued in the formulation of the 1956 budget—on which preliminary work is already under way. To this end, your personal direction and review of the preparation of your department's 1956 budget submission are requested. That submission should be made to the Bureau of the Budget by September 15.

"To assist you in the preparation of your fiscal year 1956 budget, the President has established the policies and assumptions set forth in the attachment. This letter and the attachment are for the guidance of your department in preparing its estimates for 1956 and are not to be released outside of the department.

"To aid you further in preparing your 1956 budget, the President has approved the ceiling set forth below as the maximum amount, consistent with the President's overall budgetary objectives, upon which your budgetary plans for 1956 may be based.

(Inserted is a paragraph of the new obligatory ceiling—a different paragraph to each cabinet officer and this paragraph, which would identify the name of the cabinet officer from which this came, is therefore omitted.)

"Your budget for 1956 should cover the complete requirements of your department for the year. Estimates for supplemental appropriations for 1956 will be considered only when they are necessary because of subsequent congressional action or where the supplemental is needed because of developments which were neither foreseen nor foreseeable. The original budget submission should contain firm figures and should include all the explanations, schedules, and justifications which are required under the provisions of budget circular No. A-11.

"Sincerely Yours,

"S. Rowland R. Hughes

"Director"

Note — Because of the length and importance of the secret budget letter, the remainder will be published tomorrow.

Voters Select Nominees In Nine States

By United Press

All incumbent congressmen seeking renomination were successful in primaries held Tuesday in nine states but an interim-appointed senator was defeated in his bid for a full term.

In light balloting, the nine states selected nominees for five seats in the Senate and 91 in the House. States involved were Colorado, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York, Utah, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

All of the states except Utah, New York and Washington also named candidates for governor.

Five senatorial seats were involved in the balloting including two in New Hampshire and one each in Colorado, Massachusetts and Minnesota.

Tuesday's balloting virtually completed the lineup for November's election in which the two parties will fight for congressional control. Rhode Island must still hold its primary and New York will nominate candidates for governor in party conventions later this month.

Perhaps the biggest upset posted was in New Hampshire where Sen. John W. Upton, filling out by appointment the term of the late Sen. Charles W. Tobey, was defeated for nomination to a full term.

Rep. Norris Cotton successfully fished an almost-certain fifth term in the House to whip Upton easily for the Republican nomination.

In another interesting highlight, Democratic Sen. Hubert E. Humphrey was squared away against Republican nominee Val Bjornson to fight for the Minnesota Senate seat in the November election. Humphrey has been chosen by the GOP as a prime target in the party's bid to increase its holdings in Congress.

FHA County Committee Training Held Here on Sept. 10

The annual FHA county committee training day was held Sept. 10 in the office of the Farmers Home Administration, Harrisburg. E. Ronald Coon, county supervisor, reported today. Counties participating in this training day were Gallatin, Hamilton, Johnson, Saline and Williamson.

The training day is held once each year to discuss with all committeemen the objectives of the Farmers Home Administration and the responsibility of the committeemen.

A large portion of the day was spent in explaining the various types of loans which are available through Farmers Home Administration. Among the loans discussed were water facility and soil conservation.

The Saline county committeemen are Earl S. O'Keefe, Eugene Reynolds and Reuel Thaxton.

Sen. Capehart Refutes Charge Against Douglas

CHICAGO (AP)—A letter from Sen. Homer Capehart today denied charges that a political supporter of Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, Illinois, reaped a huge windfall profit on a Chicago apartment building.

Capehart, an Indiana Republican, is conducting an investigation into federal housing operations here as chairman of the Senate Banking committee.

One of the first witnesses today was scheduled to be Ferdinand Kramer, a Chicago real estate dealer who, although a lifelong Republican, is acting as a fund-raiser for Douglas' re-election campaign.

Capehart, at the behest of Douglas, today refuted charges emanating from the Washington office of another senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, that Kramer made a $1,650,000 windfall profit as a result of promoting an FHA-insured apartment building here.

Capehart said in a letter to Douglas that he had checked into the charges which were publicized by an Illinois chain of newspapers.

"The newspaper article, of course, was wrong in stating that Mr. Kramer and his company made a windfall profit of $1,650,000," Capehart wrote Douglas. "As a matter of fact, the actual construction costs were over $7,250,000 and the guaranteed (Federal Housing Authority) loan was only $6,354,000.

Welcomes Denial

"So Mr. Kramer and the other sponsors invested nearly a million dollars in the project.

"They were also wrong in intimating that you (Douglas) had anything whatsoever to do with this project, because our inquiry fails to disclose that you even knew about it."

Capehart invited Douglas to "use this letter in any way you see fit in order that the people may have the exact facts."

Kramer is a member of the firm of Draper and Kramer which sponsored the Michigan Shores Apartment development here under an FHA-guaranteed mortgage.

In a statement, Douglas said "I welcome the categorical denial by Senator Capehart" that Kramer had received the windfall or that "in any way interceded in his behalf."

He said the affair indicated that "higher FHA officials" should "look into" the conduct of their subordinates "to see the extent to which it is common practice to play politics with the reputations of highly-respected and honorable citizens."

Onion Hill Ready at Olney for National Plow Matches Thursday Through Saturday

Editor's Note: This is the first of two stories on the National Plow Matches at Olney Thursday through Saturday.

By ROBERT L. ULLRICH
OLNEY, Ill. (AP)—Onion Hill is ready after eight months of "face-lifting" for the National Plow Matches to be held there Thursday through Saturday.

When the three-day program ends Saturday, there will be two national champion plowmen—one for level-land plowing and the other for contour plowing.

Equally as important, the thousands of persons attending the matches will have learned important lessons in soil conservation and modern farming and home-making methods.

Onion Hill, several miles north of here, was criss-crossed with eroded gullies and tangled brush grown into dense hedgerows when bulldozers and motor graders started preparing the site last winter. The Caterpillar Tractor Co. of Peoria provided operators for the heavy caterpillar equipment loaned by

Tent City Built

Now a small city of tents stands in the middle of the 2,200 acres leased by the non-profit corporation which is putting on the matches with assistance from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Besides official tents, 248 exhibition spaces for concessions and equipment manufacturers and dealers have been marked out in the open or under canvas.

Exhibit space fees are counted on to finance the $25,000 budget for the matches which are free to all. In return, the manufacturers and dealers will show their products to possibly 100,000 persons.

The site averages two miles in width and stretches about five miles from a land-smoothing and drainage demonstration plot in the northeast to a 3/4-mile landing strip built in the southwest corner for use by farmers and others flying in their own planes. The Flying Farmers organization estimated 500 of its members would arrive in their own planes.

Visitors will find 127 tractor-drawn wagons traveling over a five-mile tour route past all soil conservation and plowing demonstrations as well as the plowing contest sites. Guides will be on each wagon to explain the demonstrations to the riders.

Benson Speech Saturday

For those who'd like an aerial view of the site, airplane tours will be available.

The national level-land and contour plowing contests will share the climax Saturday with a speech by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson. The speeches and award presentations will be made on a stage built below a natural amphitheater.

Gives Birth to Triplet Girls

CANTON, Ill. (AP)—Triplet girls were born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Palmer, of Ipava, Ill., at Grant hospital here.

One weighed 5 pounds 3 ounces, another 4 pounds 9 ounces. The third was placed in an air lock in fair condition and was not weighed. The other two were in good condition.

The triplets were the first children for 20-year-old Mrs. Palmer. Her husband is a construction worker.

theater graded out of a hillside by bulldozers and seeded down earlier this year.

Finals of the Illinois state plowing contest will be held Friday and many other events of interest to farmers and their families are scheduled daily.

Highlights of the Youth Day program Thursday:

7 a. m.—National sheep dog trials start.

9 a. m.—Tractor operators contest for farm youths.

9:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.—Future Farmers of America regional public speaking contest with entries from 13 Midwest states.

Budget Deficit $4.7 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration today counted on new government economies and bigger tax revenues from an "almost sure" business upswing to combat an unexpected increase in the estimated federal deficit.

Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey announced Tuesday night that a new review of the fiscal 1955 budget points to a deficit of $4,700,000,000 more than 1 1/2 times the $2,900,000,000 President Eisenhower predicted last January.

Humphrey promised at a news conference that the administration would order new economies—even in the field of national defense—to whittle the deficit down before the fiscal year ends next June 30.

He also predicted that an unexpected improvement in business conditions would bring in greater tax revenues to help ease the budget gap. And he said the higher estimated deficit does not completely rule out a possible administration request for further tax cuts sometime in the foreseeable future.

Theodore Roosevelt became president of the U. S. at 42 years of age.

In Remembrance
In loving memory of Mary Watson Tretter, who passed away one year ago today, Sept. 15, 1953. She has taken her last journey. On a beautiful ship called Rest Away from this world of sorrow To a land of peace and rest. God saw when her footsteps faltered. When her heart grew weak and faint. He marked when her strength was failing. And listened to each complaint. Then He bade her rest forever. For the pathway had grown too steep. So He touched her eyes with his gentle hand. And our loved one went to sleep. Sadly missed by husband, father, mother, brothers and sisters. *67-1

FTC Proposes Standards for Cigaret Ads

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Federal Trade Commission today proposed cigarette advertising standards and asked tobacco companies to comply with them voluntarily.

Among the proposals was that cigarette manufacturers refrain from presenting their product as either beneficial to health in any respect or as not harmful or non-irritating.

The proposed standards were submitted by Charles E. Grandey, director of the FTC's bureau of consultation, in a letter to 24 tobacco companies.

Grandey said the proposed standards are necessary because of the "recent scientific developments with smoking to the effects of cigarette smoking."

He also proposed that cigarette manufacturers refrain from saying that their brand contains less nicotine, tar, or resins, "unless such representation is supported by impartial scientific test data."

He also proposed that cigarette makers not imply their cigarettes have medical approval, and should generally limit their advertising "to the subjects of quality, taste, enjoyment and other similar matters of opinion."

Tancred walked perhaps 30 yards, then crossed the street. He passed McCoy's Saloon, the hotel and the Texas Saloon. Finally he came to Fugger's store. Without slowing or breaking his stride Wes Tancred turned in and opened the door.

There were two or three customers in the store, but Fugger was nowhere in sight. Tancred walked through the store and a sudden hush fell in the big room. He climbed the stairs to the balcony and pushed open the door of Fugger's private office.

Fugger gave a violent start as he recognized Tancred. "You!" "You're under arrest, Fugger," Tancred said evenly.

Sheer horror spread over Fugger's face. "What are you talking about?"

"I'm arresting you for the murder of Luke Miller," Tancred said. "You're coming to jail with me."

"You're crazy!" Fugger cried hoarsely.

"I'd rather kill you," Tancred went on, "but Luke Miller wanted things done according to the law, so come with me."

Fugger pushed back his chair and got to his feet. "You'd put me in jail?"

Tancred stood aside and gestured to the door. Fugger swayed for a moment, then reeled toward the door. He went down the stairs.

almost stumbling a couple of times.

Downstairs the customers and his clerks watched in awe as Jacob Fugger, followed closely by Wes Tancred, walked through the store to the door.

On the street, people came out of stores, watched as Fugger shuffled along. As they neared McCoy's Saloon, Fugger's steps faltered. Tancred reached out and gave him a shove. Fugger almost fell on his face. He cried out, recovered and almost ran ahead of Tancred.

Hong Kong Smith, half-sober, stared at Tancred as he passed. Then he turned to a cowboy. "Get Dave Helm and Manny Harpending." He saw McCoy's face over the batwing doors. "Get Eric Stratemeyer."

Fugger marched into the marshal's office and stopped. Tancred indicated the door leading to the cell in the rear.

"Not in there," sobbed Fugger. Tancred opened the door and shoved Fugger in violently. Then he turned the key in the door.

As he came out of the marshal's office, Lee Kinnaird came up. "So you've done it!"

Tancred nodded. "I'll be back in a little while... to face them."

He walked down the street, cutting diagonally across, so that he reached the far sidewalk in front of McCoy's Saloon. Hong Kong Smith stood outside the door. His face was coldly savage.

"You've got an hour to get out of town," said Tancred.

"You've got about a half hour—to live!" retorted Hong Kong Smith.

Tancred went on to the Texas Saloon. He entered.

Lily Leeds was behind the bar, but when she saw Tancred her face paled and she walked to her office. Tancred followed her into the little room and closed the door. "She found you!" Lily said.

"Laura? Yes?"

"You love her, Wes! Then why didn't you go away with her? Why did you come back?"

"What else could I do, Lily? I couldn't run—any more. A man's got to make a stand somewhere. You can't fight them all. There are too many. They'll shoot you down."

"I've got Fugger and he gives the orders. He'll be the first to die... and I think he's afraid to die." He looked at her sharply.

"I just wanted to ask you one question... what's happened to Lee Kinnaird?"

"What do you mean, Wes?"

"He's... different."

"Oh, he had a rather hard time of it while you were gone. He arrested Hong Kong Smith."

"I know about that. That wouldn't change him."

"Well, maybe he thinks the situation is hopeless..." Then as Tancred started to turn away, "Wait..."

He stopped and looked at her. She said, "He's in love with Laura Vesser. He... he hates you."

He let out a heavy sigh and opened the door. Lily cried out, "Wes!"

He went out.

When he came out of the saloon, Tancred saw a knot of Texas men gathered around Hong Kong Smith. It was a quiet group, however. They watched him as he crossed the street, but no one spoke, no one made a move.

He went on to the courthouse. Kinnaird stepped out as he came up. Behind Tancred, down the street, horses came galloping.

Kinnaird said, "Fugger offered me $10,000 to turn him loose."

"He made me an offer once," Tancred said. "He said every man had a price."

Kinnaird, looking past Tancred, nodded. "They're coming."

Tancred stepped aside, making a half turn, so that he was facing Kinnaird and could look down the street. The horsemen had come to a halt in front of McCoy's Saloon and were dismounting. Hong Kong Smith and his other group had merged with them. The augmented force began to move on foot, diagonally across the street, toward the jail.

Gulf announces a completely new and different gasoline!

► Now—Gulf refines out the “dirty-burning tail-end” of gasoline—the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines. Result:

a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power...free from knock or pre-ignition.

This lamp is burning the “DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END” of gasoline which GULF refines out

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the cleaner-burning super-fuel

Proof:

Instead of trying to fight troublemaking deposits with so-called “miracle-additives”—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That's why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined

NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, “dirty-burning tail-end”—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates the Gulf scientist is holding in the unretouched photo above and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

Starting with your first tankful, this new, super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:

- More complete engine protection than so-called “miracle-additive” gasolines. Why? Because Gulf refines out the “dirty-burning tail-end” of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines—and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.
- Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's super-compression engines. Why? Because the anti-knock power of new Gulf NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.
- Stall-proof smoothness—no more worries about carburetor icing in chilly weather, or vapor lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Road tests show: New Gulf No-Nox actually makes cars perform better than new...even after 15,000 miles!

TRUE! Under all conditions—Gulf test cars showed: Higher-than-new horsepower! Better-than-new on gasoline mileage! And not a single trace of carbon knock or pre-ignition at any time, even on the steepest mountain grades!

COMPLETELY NEW! SUPER-REFINED

Iowa is Question Mark in Big Ten Race; Evashevski Says Team Overrated

IOWA CITY, Iowa — The Iowa Hawkeyes, without an uncontested title since 1921, are probably the big question mark in the Big Ten conference this fall.

If the Hawks pick up the football season where they left it at South Bend, Ind., last November they will be a Midwest power. Iowa ended with a controversial 14-14 tie with Notre Dame.

The test will come early. Iowa and favored co-champion Michigan State open Sept. 25 in the first big game of the infant season at Iowa City.

"We're definitely overrated," said Coach Forest Evashevski, holder of an unprecedented 10-year coaching contract at Iowa. "We'll settle for a 50-50 record."

Even as he watched his No. 1 and No. 2 teams score 66 points against the rest of the squad in a two-hour full-scale scrimmage he was not overly optimistic. Play, he said, was "spasmodic."

Three Steubenville, Ohio, classmates who came to Iowa to play football will see heavy action. Heading the list is 210-pound Calvin Jones, picked by Minnesota's Paul Giel as the toughest lineman he ever faced.

The burly right guard will be bulwark of a forward wall that gave up only 116.8 yards per game on the ground last year. Eight of the 14 lettermen linemen are gone. A Steubenville end, Frank Williams, is a better than average catcher and has great speed. The other end is giant Ralph Freeman, a 235-pounder.

Chinese crewmen aboard the "Kert," which was on a shakedown cruise, tried to explain to the Communists that the yacht was in international waters.

But the Reds towed them into Lapseimei and then took them to Canton where they were placed in solitary confinement in private homes for 6½ months.

Three Were Kept Apart
The three men did not see each other again until this morning when they were put aboard a train at Canton.

"We were not allowed to communicate with each other," Applegate said. "I didn't know Dixon and Krasner were alive until this morning."

One of the questions the Reds asked Applegate was if he believed the Communist Chinese could capture Formosa.

"I said they can't," Applegate said. "From what I've seen of the Chinese people's navy they couldn't even find it (Formosa). That was the wrong answer."

Applegate said he was taken to a prison which had cells 11 feet wide and 6 feet high.

"The walls must have been whitewashed once," Applegate said. "I could see signs that whitewash had been under that layer of bugs."

Asked About Germ Warfare
Applegate said he was questioned repeatedly about germ warfare.

He said he first denied Red charges that the United States practiced germ warfare in Korea but the Communists accused him of lying.

"By a process of osmosis it finally dawned on me that they wanted lies, so I lied," Applegate said. "I told them what I thought they wanted to know but they were confused because my lies were different from lies told by others in Korea."

Applegate said the Chinese kept telling him they were going to kill him.

Dixon said he signed two confessions that they had "intruded" in Red Chinese waters because "they got the idea through to us if we did not admit it we would not get out."

In announcing their expulsion Sunday, the Communists said the yacht, a "dream boat" which Applegate had bought and reconditioned, had been confiscated.

Elias Howe invented the sewing machine in 1846.

Some people seem to think that if they hadn't been born the world would have wanted to know why not.

Bull Dog Backfield Averages 165 Pounds; First String Line 177

Harrisburg will be fielding a backfield that averages 165 pounds and a line that averages 177 when they take the field at Murphysboro Friday night.

Gone are the super big boys of recent years but there still are a few around who are definitely big enough for high school play.

Heaviest first stringers are Charles "Tony" Beal, fullback, and Jim Durham, guard, who both tip the scales at 197 pounds. There is only one bigger boy on the squad, Everett Evans, a 200-pound tackle who undoubtedly will see a lot of action.

Smallest first string lineman is Co-Captain Eddie Seright, end, who weighs 148 pounds. Smallest back on the starting eleven is Gary Trammel, who weighs but 141.

Shortest man on the squad is Jack Small, junior backfield candidate who stands five feet, four and one half inches tall. Lightest is Mike Hays, quarterback, at 119. Tallest player is John Wilson, first string end who is six feet, three and one-half inches. Of the varsity squad of 31, 15 are six feet or over.

Looking AT Sports

By BILL MELTON

Bob Worley, sports editor of the Centralia Sentinel, has written a story regarding football prospects in the South Seven conference and Centralia, Benton and Herrin are regarded in early season predictions as the powerhouses.

Mt. Vernon coach Noble Thomas is said to regard Centralia as the toughest, with Benton and Herrin having good chances to take the title, won the past two seasons by Mt. Vernon.

The Centralia coach, Jimmie Evers, agrees that Benton and Herrin will be toughest, but doesn't comment on his own squad which includes 15 lettermen, including all conference tackle Moose Taylor and tailback Bobby Joe Mason.

West Frankfort is looked upon as a fairly strong contender, with Harrisburg and Benton rated as "spoilers" by others around the conference.

There are no conference games this week, however most of the clubs will be busy in non-league tilts. The following week, Sept. 21, three league games are on tap, including a clash between two of the favored teams—Benton and Centralia in the South Seven conference.

West Frankfort is looked upon as a fairly strong contender, with Harrisburg and Benton rated as "spoilers" by others around the conference.

There are no conference games this week, however most of the clubs will be busy in non-league tilts. The following week, Sept. 21, three league games are on tap, including a clash between two of the favored teams—Benton and Centralia in the South Seven conference.

O'Brien Schedules Scrimmage for SIU Grid Squad

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Coach Bill O'Brien scheduled a scrimmage for his Southern Illinois university football squad Thursday after stressing pass offense and defense earlier this week.

O'Brien emphasized defense patterns against the passes expected from quarterback Chuck Yeargum of Southeast Missouri College in Southern's opener here Sept. 25 at 8 p. m. in McAndrew Stadium.

SIU classes started Tuesday and drills were cut to one session daily. Early changes in the line moved Cliff Johnson, twice an all-conference tackle, to a guard spot. Veteran tackle Joe Kalla also ran through drills in a guard position.

NEW YORK — Kicking off the infant football season, here is the first edition of Fraley's Follies and the weekend grid winners — along with a few reflections on tonight's Rocky Marciano-Ezzard Charles heavyweight championship fight.

Game of the Week
California over Oklahoma — this can make me better psychiatrist bait than Charles. Oklahoma is figured by many as the nation's top team, but it usually starts slowly. So I'd "Sooner" pick underdog California with Paul Larson and a burly line inaugurating a season of walloping upsets.

The South
Maryland over Kentucky — you have to go for the Rock.

Georgia Tech over Tulane — he can bust you up.

Georgia over Florida State — with either hand.

Mississippi over North Texas State — Rocky is unbeaten.

Alabama over Mississippi Southern — and should remain so.

Also: Mississippi State over Memphis State; Clemson over Presbyterian; Wake Forest over George Washington; VMI over Davidson; VPI over North Carolina State.

The Midwest
Kansas over TCU — Dempsey couldn't win it back.

Iowa State over South Dakota State — nor Louis or Corbett.

Cincinnati over Detroit — which is a lot of calmed class.

Kansas State over Colorado A and M — and a few grades beyond Ezzard's proved potential.

The West
Southern Cal over Washington State — Ez's horoscope interests.

Stanford over COP — it has another prophetic line.

UCLA over San Diego Navy — "a day for endurance and bravery."

Washington over Utah — which took little stargazing.

Also: Colorado over Drake, Wyoming over Oklahoma A and M, Brigham Young over New Mexico; Arizona over New Mexico A and M, and Arizona State Tempe over Hawaii.

The Southwest
Texas over LSU — Ezzard has plenty of gizzard.

Texas Aggies over Texas Tech — he proved it the last time out.

Baylor over Houston — but it is more blessed to give than to receive.

Tulsa over Hardin-Simmons — particularly in box-fighting.

Rice over Florida — and the Rock looks like one of the finest fistic "givers" of all time.

day that fullback Dick Fleischer apparently suffered the injury in a scrimmage last Wednesday, but managed to keep the seriousness of the injury to himself.

Richards, Marion Make Plans to Improve Orioles, White Sox Next Season

CHICAGO — Paul Richards, then the St. Louis Browns last season, brand-new field and general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, and Marty Marion, Richards' successor as manager of the Chicago White Sox, both allowed today they already have "some ideas" about improving their clubs next season.

Neither of the two "thin men" would specify exactly what their first moves would be, but Marion emphasized possible winner trades while Richards placed his stress on "establishing our own farm system."

It's one of baseball's most unusual switches — Marion inheriting Richards' problems with the third-place Sox while Richards inherits the same problems that Marion had with the Orioles, who were

President Clarence Miles of the Orioles declared Tuesday that Richards, who signed a three-year contract at an estimated salary of $50,000 a year, will be in charge of all player personnel and player transactions as well as being in full command of the team on the field. It places the Orioles' future right in the lap of the quiet, Bible-reading Texan and he announced he started work "immediately."

To Meet With Ehlers
One of the first items on Richards' program is a meeting here today with Art Ehlers, who up to Tuesday was the Orioles' general manager. The white-haired Ehlers said he would "stay on with the club until I'm told to do otherwise," and it was believed he would be retained in another capacity.

Jimmy Dykes, whose reign as field manager of the Orioles comes to an end, also may stay on in another capacity. The cigar-smoking veteran, who came with Ehlers to the Orioles from the Philadelphia A's last year, said he will "stay on until I hear from Richards."

The quiet, popular Marion, beginning his third tour of duty as a major league manager, said he'll go slow on changes right now — "We're going to play out the season and try to win every game," he explained. "Then we'll sit down and see what we think about next year."

The United States government owns an estimated one out of five of all the machine tools in the country, equivalent to nearly four years' output of the tool industry.

NEW YORK — The heavy-weight championship title fight between Rocky Marciano and challenger Ezzard Charles, scheduled for Yankee Stadium tonight, was postponed until Thursday night because of rain.

Chairman Robert T. Christenberry of the New York Boxing Commission announced that there would be another physical examination Thursday but not necessarily a weigh-in since the fighters are heavyweights.

Promoter Jim Norris announced the postponement shortly after today's weigh-in at which Charles sealed the heaviest of his career, 192½ pounds, and Marciano registered 186½.

Norris said "We are considering only the 24-hour postponement we are announcing now." He made that reply when asked what would happen if it rained Thursday night, as forecast.
